

*Oficina Regional para Centroamérica y
el Caribe en Panamá (ROPAN)*

Stacy de la Torre, UNODC Regional Anti-Corruption Advisor Regional Office for Central America and the Caribbean

Stacy de la Torre serves as the UNODC Regional Anti-Corruption Advisor covering Central America and the Caribbean with projects in over twelve countries in the region focused on corruption prevention, detection, prosecution and asset recovery.

Prior to joining the United Nations, Ms. de la Torre worked as a prosecutor for the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) investigating and prosecuting cases of corruption, narcotics trafficking and money laundering. She served for more than 10 years as the DOJ Attaché in Central America and as the Senior Legal Advisor and Attaché at the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City. Ms. de la Torre also served as the DOJ Legal Advisor in Nairobi, Kenya, as a prosecutor at the UN International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia and as the Senior Legal Advisor to the UN International Independent Investigation Commission in Beirut, Lebanon and The Hague, Netherlands.